AN OPEN LETTER TO THE MEMBERS OF THE ELBA STUDY CLUB

Dear Club Members,
I noticed in an article last week that you have selected as one of your projects for the year, the beautification of the court square. I congratulate you on this selection. There just isn't anything that you can do that needs doing as bad as this does.

Since I came to Elba some 18 months ago there has been at least a half-dozen proposals made to clean up this lawn. And if the Square has gained as much as one rose bud or one sprig of shrubbery, or if the pile of coal looks one bit better, it has escaped my notice. Committees have met and planned, and talked, and the old Square just sits there. I have been a part of some of these committees and have been at fault as much as anybody else. All of us have completely fallen down on the job.

In selecting this for a project you have handed yourself quite a task. However, I believe you can accomplish it. Elba club-women made arrangements for a football game when I didn't think they could get to first base. They have done a wonderful job with the library and are to be congratulated. If you and the other clubs can accomplish these projects, you can certainly improve the looks of the Square.

Beautification of the city is a job that must be carried out by you women. We men have been in the habit of shirking such jobs as mowing lawns and trimming shrubbery for so long that we will never get around to it on our own. However, with a little urging and supervision on your part, all of us can be enlisted to help.

You have shown great public spirit in selecting this project and your successful completion of it will indeed be a public service. No matter how much you work to keep your yards and homes attractive, Elba will be remembered by people driving through as the run down little place with the dirty Square. No matter how many fine buildings are constructed around it, the Square, in its present condition, will always be an eyesore.

The Elba Square offers good possibilities for beautification. The flowing well will be an asset and the courthouse, though it smells terrible, wouldn't look bad in a suitable setting.

I am grateful that you have taken this interest in the city and if I can be of service to you, either through the columns of the Clipper, or personally, it will be a pleasure. Your project is a hard but worthwhile job and is one in which you will need lots of assistance. For this job I believe you can get it.

Sincerely yours,
E. J. Richburg

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR FISH POND

Next week the surveyors are supposed to start work on the Coffee County fish pond. Tentative location of the pond is six miles northwest of Elba on the Gordy Clark property. A 50 to 75 acre pond is to be constructed and plans are being made to include a park with barbecue pits, picnic benches and some playground equipment.

The State is going to construct the pond and a road completely around it. $25,000 has been set aside for this purpose from the State funds and Coffee County citizens will have to dig up the rest. 200 acres of land is needed for the project and can be bought at $15 per acre. The State money can not be used for purchase of land; it is to be used only for construction. The land has to be bought and deeded to the state before any work is begun after the survey is completed. The pond and the park will be open to all people who desire to use it. The only regulation being the State game and fish laws. Those of us who expect to use the pond and park are soon going to have to put up a little money for the purchase of the land. The price of an acre of land isn't enough but what most of us can contribute that much. Heywood Taylor has been made chairman of the fund raising committee and Ed Richburg treasurer. If you feel that you can give an acre, mail your contribution to either one. If you aren't able to contribute the price of an acre, any amount will be appreciated. We do not want construction of the pond to be held up because of a shortage of funds, so don't fail to get your contribution in early.

A BOY

After a male has grown out of long dresses and triangles and has acquired pants, freckles and so much dirt that relatives do not care to kiss it between meals, it becomes a boy.

A boy is Nature's answer to the false belief that there is no perpetual motion. He can run like a deer, swim like a fish, climb like a squirrel, bark like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig, or act like a jackass, according to climatic conditions.

The world is so full of boys that its impossible to set off a firecracker, strike up a band, or to pitch a ball without collecting dozens of them. Boys are not ornamental; they're useful. If it were not for boys, the newspapers would go undelivered and a hundred thousand picture shows would go bankrupt.

The boy is a natural spectator; he watches parades, fires, fights, and football games with equal fervor. However, he will not watch a clock.

A boy is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite. Boys imitate their Dads in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners.

Boys are very durable. A boy, if not washed too often and if kept in a cool quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hornets nests, swimming holes and five helpings of pie.

When he grows up he'll trade puppy love, energy, warts, bashfulness and a cast iron stomach for a bay window, pride, ambition, pretense and a bald head and will immediately begin to say, "Boys aren't what they used to be in the good old days."

PUREBRED HOGS

In the last few years, largely through the efforts of 4-H and FFA club members, the practice of improving stock through the use of purebred cattle has made great gains in Coffee County. The result is that farmers are making more money from their livestock, which has become big business in this part of the country.

Attention has been largely on cattle, however, and the lovely hog has been unnoticed. Lately, however, purebred hogs have shown up on many farms in the county. A striking example of their value was seen at the Elba Livestock Market two weeks ago when a few scrub feeder pigs were sold for 15 cents a pound while purebred pigs were bringing 26 to 28 cents per pound.

A hog of good breeding will gain more weight on less feed than scrubs. Of course they demand better care and proper rations, but for this little extra work, a farmer can raise a lot of extra bacon and sausage. In this way he makes more money, some of which eventually gets back to us. We're for it completely.

THE ANDALUSIA STAR-NEWS

Last week we received the first issue of the Andalusia Star-News. It is edited by Ed Dannelly and published by a corporation made up largely of Dannelly, W. F. Locke and Byron Vickery, former publishers of the Andalusia Star. Last month the corporation was formed and bought both papers in Andalusia and combined the two. The result is a very fine paper which should be a credit to Andalusia.

Editor Dannelly is well known in Elba and Coffee County, having served as secretary to Congressman George Andrews. In this capacity he did a good job and will be missed in the district. However, he should also do well in his return to the newspaper field.

Messrs Vickery and Locke are both newspaper men of proven quality. The three of them should make an ideal set-up for a newspaper business. We extend to them our congratulations and best wishes.

EDITORIAL PAGE

For quite some time we have omitted the editorial page of the Clipper. This omission was brought about by necessity rather than desire. We lost our linotype operator last summer and since then we have been as busy as a cat someone once told us about, trying to peek out enough type to fill up the paper each week. Some short cuts just had to be taken.

We have had a pretty thorough course in typesetting these past few months, and now it doesn't take nearly as long to set type as it did. We hope that in the future we will be able to make the editorial page a regular feature again.

Last month's "Ladies Home Journal" devoted several pages to an article about the wife of a postman in Indiana. Seems that she manages to feed her family well on the amazingly low cost of twenty-three dollars per week. If stories like that make good copy, the editor should visit Elba. We can show him pretty good eating on a lot less than 23 bucks between Saturdays.

Diluted Synecopation

BILL consulted his physician for a general rundown condition. The doctor told him he was suffering from alcoholism. He told the doctor he wouldn't dare tell his wife to tell her that would secure the meaning. The doctor refused to give him another name.

On his way home, Bill tried to think of a big word to tell his wife. He passed a music store and saw the word "synecopation" in the window. That would do it, he would tell her that he had a mild case of "synecopation."

Alarmed and somewhat puzzled, his pretty wife hurried for the dictionary. But, alas, all was lost as she read slowly in a determined voice, "Erratic leaping from bar to bar."

High Cost of Living
"How do you budget your expenses?" the clerk asked a Negro applying for a loan.

"Well, sah," the applicant replied, "ah 'lows 40 pusbent fo' eatin', 30 pusbent fo' rent, 20 pusbent fo' clothes, 10 pusbent fo' savin', and 20 pusbent fo' insh, dentils."

"But that adds up to 120 per cent," the clerk said. "That's impossible."

The applicant sighed.

"Brothah, is you tellin' me!"

Jonah's Revenge

While steak was on the menu and there was no additional run on it, so the waiter was surprised when a diner demanded a double portion.

"You're fond of whale steak, sir?" the waiter asked.

"Well," the diner explained, "I've been waiting for this opportunity for a long time. My name's Jonah."

Pat on the Back

The story is told of how George Gerahwin, seeking to attain a formal music education, had enrolled in a course in harmony given by a celebrated musician.

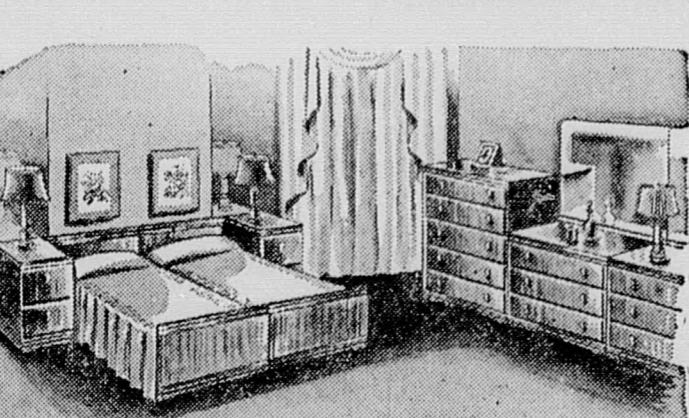

During the progress of the course Gerahwin showed the instructor a composition he had written sometime before he entered the class.

The teacher studied it for a moment and then beamed his approval, and said: "You have, already learned a great deal here."

"ON THE SQUARE FOR 28 YEARS"

Mark Twain once ran a newspaper in Missouri. He received a letter from a reader saying that he had found a spider crawling on his paper and asked what that was a sign of.

Twain replied.

Old Customer, that spider was looking through your paper to find out what merchants advertise. When he finds one who never advertises he'll go to that store, spin a web across the door and live an undisturbed life of peace and happiness.

Pronunciation Difficulty

Way out West there is a small railroad station named E-U-R-E-L-I-A. The conductor and brakeman never have agreed as to the correct pronunciation of the name. The result is, the conductor comes through the cars announcing: "Your-alah, Your-alah."

The brakeman follows right on his heels, calling with great fervor, "You-really-ah, You-really-ah."

Prospects Good For Record Christmas

Elba Stores are displaying elaborate stocks of Christmas goods and already merchants are reporting numerous sales of Christmas gifts, and say that there is an unusual demand for practical but expensive gifts, such as electrical appliances, jewelry, furniture, hardware, etc. Reports from all over the country say that wholesalers records show that merchants have not only sold a record stock in anticipation of a record-breaking Christmas. The good crops, high prices and general prosperity bid fair to make their prophecies come true. Elba merchants expect to share in a general Christmas shopping wave.

Trades Building For Drug Store

W. T. Whitman has traded his building on the south side of the square occupied by his brother, J. D. Whitman, for the Drug Shop in Troy. Mr. Whitman, a registered pharmacist with many years experience in the drug business, will be in charge of the prescription department and his son, Walter, Jr. will have charge of the store, which is located across the street from the Troy Tavern Hotel in the Edge Hospital building in Troy.

Mr. Whitman secured the Elba building from J. J. Farris in 1928 and operated a drug store there until the flood in 1929. He then moved the store to the Roberts building which is now occupied by Jitney-Jungle. A few years later he moved the store to his own building and operated it until he sold it to his brother, J. D. Whitman, who still operates it as Whitman Drug Company.

Hogs Bring $21.50 At Sale Monday

In spite of inclement weather, there was a good run of hogs and cattle at the livestock sale here Monday Top hogs sold for $21.50, which according to reports, was the highest price in this section of the state. It was reported that the average price for No. one hogs in this section was $19.50 to $20.50.

Records show that prices at the Elba Livestock Market have been as high or higher than elsewhere for the past several months.

Elba - Samson Football Game Here Dec. 1st
Local Field Too Muddy To Be Used Now

The football game between Elba and Samson, scheduled for Wednesday night, November 24, has been postponed until Wednesday night, December 1st, Wet and muddy grounds made the postponement necessary.

The Samson team has gone undefeated this year in all games except one, being defeated at Hartford; and the Tigers record shows seven losses to two wins, being victorious over Hartford and Geneva. On this basis of past records the Samson team is being ruled as favorites in this final game. Elba has played the strongest teams in this part of the state, however, while competition for Samson hasn't been as strong.

The Tigers defeated Samson in a close game last year and stand a fair chance to repeat this year. This is the last game of the season and by all indications should be one of the best. All fans are invited out to see the game.

Activated Naval Unit Is Proposed For South Alabama
Lieutenant W. G. Bengel of the U. S. Navy will be in Opp on Wednesday, December 1, to address a meeting of those interested in the establishment of an Activated Naval Reserve Unit in this section of the state.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Opp High School at 7:30 P. M. All those interested in the formation of a Naval Reserve Unit are urged to attend this meeting.

Approximately 150 names have already been secured of those who desire that such a unit be established. High school students are particularly interested. It is expected that the establishment of a Naval Reserve Unit in this part of Alabama will draw interested personnel from many towns and communities.

Beat Committeemen To Be Appointed In Fish Pond Campaign

The directors of the Coffee County Fish Pond drive announced this week that committeemen will be appointed in each beat to solicit funds in his district. Severe appointments have been made and some of these men have already started their campaigns.

The organization is expected to be complete next week and at that time a full list of the names will be published. Each committeeman has a recent book and will be the authorized collector of funds in his district.

Bad weather has delayed the surveying of the site, but as soon as conditions permit, the engineers are scheduled to begin work. As soon as the survey is complete information will be published as to the exact size and location of the pond.

People who can afford it are requested to contribute the price of an acre of land ($15). Others are asked to contribute as little as one cent. The State has set aside money for the construction of the dam and the road, as well as for stocking the pond with fish. If more money can be raised than is necessary for the land it will be used for the construction of additional barbecue pits and picnic benches in the park.

Marion Bees Down Elba Tigers 40 To 12 On Local Field

The Marion Bees from Marion Military Institute overwhelmed the Elba Tigers on the Elba field Thursday night by a score of 40 to 12. From the outset it was apparent that the Tigers were out-matched by their older and more experienced opponents, but they put up a good scrap and held their own pretty well on the ground, but the Cadets used their aerial plays to a great advantage and most of their scoring was done by that method.

The Tigers did not threaten to score in the first half, but they took advantage of several costly Marion fumbles and played hard football to push across two touchdowns in the last half. Although it was a one-sided game, the Elba made many first downs and had it not been for three blocked punts the score might not have been so one-sided.

Harold Farris was the leading ground gainer for the Tigers and made several nice runs. Bennie Conner also made nice gains until he was forced to leave the game because of a leg injury. Billy Jacobs intercepted a Marion pass.
